Dear friends,

I thank you for your wishes and for your presence in these hard days.

I hope you -And our beloved Lybia- will not experience what happened in Italy in the last days and is now on going in other countries.

We realize, at last, that we need to change our approach to live the planet, and put people's well being and respect for the environment first. Otherwise we will simply waste our lives in destroying what surrounds us with new wars, with or without arms.

In this moment we should use friendship and tolerance, intelligence and willpower to build and give our children a real bright future.

Now we understand that we all really belong to the same three.

See You soon my friends
